Adri started in the insurance industry in 2018 and started Rothbury in the same year. She guides her team to ensure all financial and operational reporting is accurate and timely. As a mentor, she leads solutions to refine process and workflows as needed. Her orderliness and attention to detail are prized skills she uses daily to assist in navigating challenges and relationship building.

Being in nature is the epitome of relaxation for Adri, with both hiking and trail running allowing her to let off some steam. Maple syrup is a staple in her pantry and on her weekends, she might be found investigating the local markets or immersed in a music show. She is also skilled at locating the items her husband cannot find.
