What Simon's clients have to say

Capital City Jul 2025

I would like to say I was impressed with Simon Dotrice's dedication to his work at Rothbury. I did not rate my chance of success very highly. The amount of money involved is a lot for me but not huge by any standard. Without Simon's support, I would not have gone further with my claim but would have kept harboring a feeling of being let down by the insurers to whom I have paid a lot of money over many years without getting much support in return.

All good. The odd frustration but everyone does their best. No need to change, thanks.

All is good in the hood with Rothbury - an awesome team.

My issue was settled personally in the disputes tribunal. However, Simon kept in touch right through the process and voluntarily offered some very helpful and vital advice on preparing for the hearing.
